Pass paving plan, Owners petition For improvements

A policy to implement a project for improving Newmarket streets has been in a state of suspension around the town council table for many months. It is believed that it was mostly settled out Monday night. A by-law for resurfacing the paved streets passed second reading. The first proposal, more than a year old, for building curbs, gutters and storm sewers on many of the streets was omitted from the by-law.

New information from the department of highways had been turned up recently to reveal a decrease in provincial government road grants. The more expensive program for improvements was abandoned by most members of council. Previously council expected that the provincial subsidies would lower the total cost of street work to the town and to the individual property owner.

In the meantime property owners have been petitioning for improvements on their own streets. Three petitions have been received by council already, from owners on Simcoe St., Niagara St. and Tecumseh and Raglan Sts. They want all the improvements on their streets with pavement, curbs and gutters under a local improvement plan. These property owners are willing to be assessed for a percentage of the costs of the improvements.

If a large enough percentage of the property owners on any street sign a petition for any improvements, the work will be done. Usually the cost is spread over 15 years, shared equally by the town and the property owner.

Although the by-law passed second reading in council for only resurfacing the paved streets, a notice of motion was presented by Councillor Chas. VanZant and Reeve Arthur D. Evans, still persistent, to undertake the additional work of building curbs, gutters and storm sewers on several of the main streets as originally proposed.

"I had hoped that more people would have petitioned under this local improvement plan by the time," said Councillor Frank Bowser.

Reports came in to council last Thursday at a special meeting about complaints from property owners crying the lack of paved streets. A petition for paving

Dedicate new field At Pickering College Annual sports day

The dedication of the new football field will be made at Pickering College this Saturday on its annual Sports Day. An invitation has been extended to the people of Newmarket to attend the Sports Day. The usual track and field events will take up a full afternoon.

At 3.15 p.m. the dedication of the new playing field will be made. At the dedication ceremonies will be Ron Perry, formerly a resident of Newmarket who is director of the Pickering College memorial campaign, Samuel Rogers, chairman of the board of management, Headmaster R. E. K. Rourke and Frank Peace, chairman of the Old Boys' Association.

The college memorial campaign is devoted to improving existing facilities at the college and adding new facilities and equipment. The playing field is the first of the campaign's achievements.

under a local improvement plan was immediately circulated but none of the property owners signed. Some property owners feel that work should be paid for by the general tax rate, spreading the cost over the whole town instead of charging a portion to the property owners who live on the street being improved.

When the streets were first paved a quarter of a century ago, they were paid for under a local improvement plan with special frontage taxes on properties, similar to the present local improvement plan.

PROPOSE TOWN BUILDING AT $200,000

The construction of a new municipal building on Park Ave. is expected to be under town council discussion at future meetings. A notice of motion by councillors Chas. VanZant and Lorne Paynter was tabled Monday night recommending a new $200,000 building.

Last week an architect advised council that a new building could be erected housing the same facilities as the renovated town hall and extension on its south side, the only exception being an auditorium and market place. The estimated cost was $100,000. With an auditorium, cost would be approximately $150,000. With a larger auditorium capacity than the present town hall plus a county health unit the new building would cost approximately $200,000.

Most members of council last week said that the new building was the logical solution. Some said that it would be best to sell the present town hall. Another said that the council would probably have to pay to have it torn down.

Mayor Jos. Vale said that there would have to be a vote of the people on such an expenditure but the new motion advises council to dispend with a vote. Mr. VanZant's notice of motion recommends a new building to include a fire hall, police department, municipal offices, court offices, new auditorium, health unit and requests the Ontario municipal board to have a public hearing and thus dispend with a vote.

Lions revive minstrels At Town Hall tonight Proceeds for flood aid

There is still time to get your reserved seat ticket for the one-night revival of the Newmarket Lions Minstrel show in the Newmarket town hall tonight. Total proceeds from this special show will go to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund.

Alex. Eves, director, has been hard at work rewriting most of the script so that the routines and dialogues will be largely fresh to members of the audience who may have seen the show before. Almost all of the expenses for the show have been donated so that the proceeds will be able to go entirely to flood relief.

There is a strong enthusiasm among members of the cast to make this show "something special" for the flood victims. The idea of reviving the show was spontaneous for most of the cast and it is giving up valuable time to complete rehearsals. "We all feel the need of the Manitoba flood victims and this is the way we feel we can most help," said Mr. Eves, director. "Bill Grigg and his musicians feel the same way and we are all pitching in to make this show one to be remembered."

Tickets are on sale at Best's Drug Store, and there will be a limited sale of reserved seats at the door tonight. The show goes on at 8.15 p.m.

CLOSING MEETING

The closing meeting of Trinity W.A. will be held in the Sunday school rooms of Trinity United Church on Thursday, June 1, at 2.45.

'Clean up, paint up' next week Sponsored by Hort. Society

The Newmarket Horticultural Society is planning its second annual "Clean up, paint up" week from May 29 to June 3. Purpose of the campaign is a town-wide program of beautification which will make Newmarket a place of which its residents can be more proud.

A feature of the campaign is the free trash collection provided by the society. On Wednesday, May 31, trucks will collect trash left in containers on the sidewalks west of Main St. and on Saturday, June 3, on the east side of town.

The society is urging that every effort be made to take advantage of this special service to clean out cellars, attics and the grounds about the homes. It is pointed out that such a campaign will not only make Newmarket more attractive to residents and visitors but it is a safety precaution as well. The removal of accumulated trash reduces fire hazards.

These two sets of tiny twins and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Casovan, Point Douglas, are among the estimated 100,000 homeless as a result of the Manitoba floods. Left to right, Barbara and Richard are 22 months and John and Jane seven months. Mrs. Casovan had just put the children to bed while her husband labored at the dykes when the flood engulfed their tiny bungalow. It is to help flood victims like Mr. and Mrs. Casovan that a door-to-door canvass is being carried out in Newmarket, that district churches and organizations are contributing, that service clubs are planning money-raising projects. The money is being sent to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund which will be used to provide clothing and help rehabilitate the homes of the flood refugees.

OPEN KIDD GARDENS TO PUBLIC MAY 27

On Saturday, May 27, the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kidd will be open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m. The entrance to these gardens is by way of a lane next to 30 Gorham St.

Sponsored by the Newmarket Horticultural Society, the garden visit will give local residents an opportunity to see many thousands of tulips in full bloom.

There will be a conference for commissioners and Guides of the Central York district on Friday, May 26, at 8 p.m. in the Scout hall, Newmarket.

T.C.A. sixth largest, Growth of Airline Told to Lions club

The growth of the Trans-Canada Airlines from the "smallest beginnings in 1937" to become the sixth largest airline in the world was described to the Newmarket Lions club on Monday night by H. D. Harding, traffic representative.

Mr. Harding was introduced by T. A. Mitchell and thanked by Bert Budd. To illustrate his address, Mr. Harding showed films describing the training of T.C.A. personnel.

"Canadians have good reason to be proud of Trans-Canada Air Lines," said Mr. Harding. "It has grown from the smallest of beginnings in 1937 to become the sixth largest among the world's air lines. The first TCA commercial flight took place on September 1, 1937, between Vancouver and Seattle, a distance of 122 miles. The TCA 'fleet' so-called then consisted of two only, ten-passenger aircraft, or 20 seats in all to offer the travelling public, and in that day, TCA's employees numbered just 70."

"It can be justly claimed that Trans-Canada Air Lines has made mountains out of mole hills for today, your airline flies routes totalling more than 16,000 miles daily, operates more than 50 aircraft with an aggregate of 1,400 seats, and has nearly 6,000 employees. In 1949, more than 600,000 persons flew with TCA, an increase of 23 percent from 1948, which is clear evidence of public confidence in TCA's personnel, equipment and maintenance. Air cargo and air express ton mileage together exceed 3,000,000—an increase of 55 percent. Over 3,000,000 ton miles of mail were flown—almost double the amount of the previous year. All told TCA's aircraft flew more than 84,000,000 ton miles of air transportation, an increase of 25 percent over 1948. TCA crossed the Atlantic approximately 1,000 times during 1949 in routine fashion," Mr. Harding said.

"These days, there is no private life of Old Man Weather. We cannot alter the weather, but we do know so much about it and so well in advance that the weather loses nearly all element of surprise. This insight into the ways of weather comes from the close teamwork of TCA and the Meteorological Services of the Canadian department of transport, nation-wide organization of weather scientists located at over 200 recording stations, who are scrutinizing temperatures, wind, cloud conditions and precipitation, 24 hours a day. This data is supplemented by valuable information from hundreds of foreign observers."

"Whether in the air or on the ground, TCA's pilots are authorized on matters meteorological" (Page 10, Col. 3)

Bank $400 Tues. In flood canvass, District sends aid

Newmarket's campaign to aid Manitoba flood victims was in full swing this week. The Wednesday holiday interrupted the campaign, but by Tuesday evening, over $400 had been banked with only two of the canvassing organizations reporting. Contributions so far are listed on page 5.

The sum also included many lump donations from Newmarket and district organizations.

Canvassing were representatives of the Catholic Women's League, Business and Professional Women's club, Newmarket Legion Auxiliary, Home and School Association and Women's Institute.

LATE FLOOD REPORT

Mrs. T. A. Mitchell, canvassing for the Women's Institute, reported this morning receipt of $229 for the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund from St. Patrick's Ward.

Rev. Henry Cotton reported this morning that although Trinity United church was now engaged in a campaign for a building and painting fund for the church, $100 had been voted by the board for Manitoba Flood Relief.

Legion Auxiliary canvassers under the direction of Mrs. Robert Bunn, president, turned in a total of $60.40. Mrs. Howard Morton for the Home and School Association banked $53. The reports of the other three women's organizations will be printed next week.

Students of Mrs. Irene Proctor's Grade V at Stuart Scott school sold home-made candy and soft drinks at the school in aid of the fund and raised $10.

A special appeal on behalf of the flood victims at St. John's church on Sunday brought the flood relief fund an additional $170.

Throughout the entire district, there were heartening expressions of assistance. A collection taken at Pine Orchard Union (Page 10, Col. 2)

AURORA LIONS SPONSOR AID TO FLOODED

Aurora Lions Club hopes to top the thousand dollar figure for the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund. Members conducted a drive among the business firms Saturday, as well as a tag day when contributions added up to over $850. Donations are still coming in and the executive is confident the final count will run into four figures.

The Salvation Army, under the direction of Capt. Bonner, in co-operation with the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion, have collected clothing and bedding and arranged for packing and shipping it to the stricken province. Mrs. George Duffield, past president of the Auxiliary, said the response to the appeal made from the pulpits of the local churches and through the press has been wonderful. The Legion Hall was open for two days as a receiving depot. Cars rolled up to the hall loaded with garments. Parcels too large to transport by car were picked up by the Salvation Army truck. Monday was announced as collection day but Capt. Bonner and his helpers could not keep up with the calls and it was found necessary to operate the truck and keep the Hall open all day Tuesday for receiving the hundreds of donations.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church voted $25 for heavy work socks for the dyke workers. Upon advice that this need had been met, a cheque for the same amount was turned over to the Lions club which is acting in Aurora for the collection of relief funds.

Annual services Sunday Yonge St. meeting house

On Sunday, May 28, the historic Meeting House of the Society of Friends on Yonge St. will be open for worship. The morning service will begin at 11 o'clock, daylight saving time, and the afternoon meeting at 2 o'clock. Basket lunch between meetings.

This has become a meeting of deeper spiritual renewal as well as of traditional early Quakerism in Upper Canada and it is hoped that Friends, descendants of Friends, or any interested in that for which Friends have borne testimony, will be present.

Councillors' working hours Increase with town business

The work of the Newmarket town council has been steadily increasing since the beginning of the year. With more by-laws, more contentious problems, longer discussions and frequent delegations to council meetings routine business started to fall behind schedule.

The last three meetings held by council were within eight days. Last week it was discovered that there were a dozen routine by-laws which had accumulated and were waiting for council's reading. A special meeting had to be called Thursday of last week.

"There has been too much discussion of a committee nature in council meetings," said Mayor Vale. "Much of the time spent in going over minor details is not necessary. The discussion should be done in committee meetings," he said.

Another aspect of council problems was brought up by the mayor during discussion on a new municipal building. Members of council considered that an expenditure on a new municipal public building would have to be passed by a vote of the ratepayers. Other members said that such a project might not receive a majority vote although the building is one of Newmarket's greatest needs.

"It shows the position you can be in working on council," said the mayor. "It is obvious that we should go ahead with the building but there is also an obligation to let the ratepayers decide." Council can ask the Ontario Municipal Board to give its approval without a vote from the ratepayers.

SCOTT SETS TAX RATE
Scott township council sets rates of taxation for the township for county purposes, 72 cents on $100; township school grants, 38 cents; high school district, 38 cents; Federation of Agriculture, 1 cent on all farm lands; township general purpose, 65 cents, although with notice of a provincial subsidy having been received, this last rate may be amended.

The council signed an agreement for fire protection with the Mount Albert fire brigade of $350 a year plus $1 an hour for each man while engaged.

Council adjourned to meet Friday evening, June 2, at 7:30 because of Mount Albert field day June 3.

KESWICK NEWS

Install officers at Optimist club meeting

Dr. Don Twiss, governor of District 15 of Optimist International, installed the new officers of the local club Wednesday evening, last week, at a ladies' night banquet. They were president, Jack Russell; vice-presidents, Clark Martin, Tommy Johnston and J. C. Purdy; secretary, Clare Collins; treasurer, Jim Findlay. Immediate past president Clayton Purdy was praised by Governor Twiss for the enthusiastic manner in which he had led the club in its first year.

Mrs. Angus Cowleson, beaming with pride, introduced five of her medal winning singers who thrilled the large crowd not only with their music but with their charm. The entertainers were Carol Boothby, Marie Crittenden, Pearl Shaw, Dianne Connell and Paul Andrews.

A wool car rug donated by Clayton Purdy, plus the generosity of the members, was responsible for raising $70 for the flood victims of Winnipeg. This money will be sent to the Optimist Club of Winnipeg which lost one of its members as one of the first casualties while on dyke duty. The enthusiasm of the meeting was indicative of a very busy summer for the Optimists.

Miss Van Norman, principal of the Keswick school, proudly announced that the following students brought honor to our village by winning prizes in the Woodbridge Festival in reading and elocution: Paul Morton, third in Grade VI reading; Marion King, second in Grade VII reading; Pegi Carr, third in Grade VII reading; Betty Whitaker, third in recitation under ten years. Miss Van Norman said she was grateful and delighted with the co-operation of the school board and those who furnished transportation for the contestants.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

Our wish to give as much space as possible to the details of the Manitoba Flood Relief campaign made it necessary to leave out some considerable volume of other news items, among them a report of the fire at the home of Mr. Wesley Squires. We were particularly concerned about this because in the report, we had added some words of praise to the Newmarket firemen for the excellent job they did to keep the flames from spreading.

We hope it is not too late to draw attention to their work. Anyone who has seen the ruins left by the fire can appreciate the good management on the part of the firemen which kept the flames from spreading to Mr. Squires' home and from destroying the adjoining home. Such was the heat of the fire that the wall of a shed across the street was badly scorched. The wind carried sparks as far away as beyond Birrell's garage on the other side of Main St. A tree east of the garage caught fire when sparks settled in a dead limb and someone had to climb the tree and put it out.

The Newmarket firemen deserve a good deal of praise for their work that night.

Again, we hope it is not too late to record some of the triumphs of East Gwillimbury pupils at the York County musical festival at Woodbridge. Paul Andrews of Baseline school won the gold medal for vocal solo under 11; Carol Boothby of Keswick school won the gold medal for girls under nine, and Pearl Shaw, Keswick school, won the silver medal in the same age class, both for vocal solos. Dianne Connell won the silver medal for the vocal solo in the class of girls under nine.

Baseline school also won the first prize shield for their choir work, placing well in front of the second place choir, and their triple duet came third. Keswick school won first prize for triple trio, second prize in triple duet, first prize in grades three and four chorus, second prize in grades one and two chorus, and second prize in grades five and six chorus. Other winners were Paul Morton, Keswick, second prize in grade six reading; Marion King, second prize in grade 7 reading; Pegi Carr, third prize in grade seven reading; and Betty Whittaker third prize in recitation in the class under ten years.

Mrs. Angus Cowieson was the music teacher of the prize-winning entries and we are sure the whole district must be proud of her and her pupils. It is a great accomplishment for the schools and Mrs. Cowieson.

The Newmarket Lions Minstrel Show has scored such a hit with members of the cast, as well as the audiences which saw it, that it was a most natural thing to revive it for a one-night stand in the town hall in aid of the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund. The decision was close to being spontaneous. Several of the cast met over their morning coffee, each with the thought of reviving the show. As they sounded each other out, they found all shared the same intention. Even while they were talking about it, in came Murray Huntley from Queensville with the same thought. The editor, still somewhat dazed from his enforced holiday, almost put the show on the ropes before it began by announcing it a week later than planned, but with handbills and the radio, we hope everyone will know the date, May 25, instead of June 1 as was announced. Tickets are on sale at Best's drugstore.

Mr. George S. McDougall, Toronto, editor of the East Toronto Standard some years ago, was calling on friends in town recently. He was born in East Gwillimbury and went to school on the second concession, north of Newmarket.

MAY 25, 1900

There was great excitement in Aurora on Wednesday morning when it was found Mr. Ross' private bank had been robbed of $600 and $80 worth of stamps taken from the post office. A horse and buggy was also stolen from the stables of the Wellington hotel.

Messrs. Frank Webb, Fred Dennis and Chas. Connelly have passed the recent exams at the College of Pharmacy.

Because of such a rush of work at the Office Specialty Works the metal workers started night work on Tuesday. It is likely to continue for several months.

Lively market again last Saturday. Butter sold from 12 to 14 and 15 cents for extra choice. Eggs were firm at 14 cents a doz., apples 25 and 35 cents a bskt. Quite a lot of green vegetables — lettuce, green onions, rhubarb, radishes and asparagus all 5 cents a bunch.

Mr. Bemrose, Bradford, has purchased several acres from Mr. Glover, Holland Landing, and intends starting a brick kiln in a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cane attended the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Murrell near Sutton last Saturday.

Miss Ida Weyling has left Sharon to accept a position as a nurse in a New York hospital.

Mr. Thomas Cavanagh, Barrie, is the new assistant at the station. Mr. Clarence Pipher, who was formerly employed there, is going to the States.

Mr. A. E. Brownridge, Mount Albert, has bought out Mr. John Tait's blacksmith business in Sharon and will get possession the first of October.

A full-grown man, not more than three feet high, with beard and long hair, attracted considerable attention while passing through town.

True Canadian spirit

The spontaneous assistance to the Manitoba flood victims from all parts of Canada is a heart-warming demonstration of a national unity of spirit. Canada is physically divided by political, topographical and economic differences but all of these, difficult as they are, have been overcome by the willingness of Canadians to help fellow Canadians in distress.

Newmarket has every occasion to be proud of its people. When committees were being established last week, there was no questioning, no doubts. Everyone understood the need; everyone arose to the occasion. Volunteers for the financial canvass now underway were more than enough. The decision of the Lions club to revive the Minstrel Show, their donation of $100 to the Red Cross, the immediate assistance offered by the Optimist club and the donations of all the other organizations—all these came without plea or debate. Fellow Canadians were in painful need, and the need is being answered to the best of our ability.

Nor is this assistance confined to the larger centres. From Keswick, where the Keswick Optimists in a whirlwind auction sale raised $70, and from Bogartown where the Women's Institute is planning a donation, and from all the other centres where plans are being made and contributions gathered, there is the wish to assist, the desire to help. Here is a true Canadian spirit, a sense of the unity which far transcends the physical barriers.

The flood has made over 100,000 people homeless, cost countless millions of dollars, drowned the hopes of thousands of young families, leaving them only their debts, ended all thoughts of security in the evening of life for thousands of the aged. It is a disaster which is paralleled only by the Halifax explosion. But over the desolation shines like a beacon the great effort of the rest of Canada to succor the victims. All is not lost while fellow Canadians can give to those who have lost so much.

Holland river conservation

How much longer can we afford to await the formation of an authority to begin the work of conservation and control in the Holland River watershed? It has now been almost a year and a half since the proposal of a Holland River Conservation Authority was made. Last winter a meeting to organize such an authority was called but it had to be adjourned because of absent representatives from several municipalities. It was decided then to hold another meeting a week or two later but months have passed and nothing has been done.

The growth of Aurora and Newmarket, two of the major centres in the watershed, will soon be straining again their sources of water. To the east and to the west of the river there are vast areas of eroded land which require attention if they are to be restored to fertility and adjoining lands saved from their fate. A condition has arisen south of Aurora where, it is said, the heavy demands for water of the Ontario hospital in the former De La Salle building are lowering the wells of the district. In the Oak Ridges area, increasing growth will present fresh problems which might be avoided by decisive action now.

In Newmarket this spring, the river flooded once again, coming close to endangering the Hoffman plant. The banks of the river where it flows through the town were cut away still more by the current. Great volumes of water poured downstream, water which, if impounded in the spring could serve as reservoirs for late summer drought. Newmarket continues to dump raw sewage in the stream to the great inconvenience of those downstream. Uncertainty continues to plague the ultimate disposition of Fairy Lake and waste the work already done on it.

Until a conservation authority is established, there is little likelihood of the inter-municipal action, so necessary to the development of the watershed. But it is obvious too that the longer the delay in the establishment of an authority, the greater the problems with which it must deal.

Need for planning

Events in Newmarket in the last few weeks offer an excellent argument in favor of a municipal planning board. The proposal for a municipal building, the need for a magistrate's court and office, and the location here of the health unit have created problems which could have been foreseen and their solutions prepared in advance by a planning board.

The council has known of the eventual establishment of a health unit for two years or so. The need for a municipal building has grown increasingly obvious in recent years. The establishment of a magistrate's office in Newmarket is also an event which might have been foreseen by a planning body concerned exclusively with the consideration of such matters.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

"Two Newmarket school boys appeared before the Newmarket court recently because they carried air pistols without having licences and fired them within 50 feet of roadway."

The boys are thousands of miles away from Newmarket, Ont. They appeared in court in Newmarket, England. We have been reading the Newmarket Journal which the boss has been receiving from over there.

There are also several problems common to both Newmarkets. "In view of considerable congestion and danger resulting from parked vehicles in Church-gate St., Bridge St. and part of Sand St., Soham, the Cambs county council will be recommended to make an order to prohibit vehicles waiting in the two narrowest sections of the streets except for permitted purposes. The chief constable is in agreement with the proposed order."

What they need over there is parking meters, of course.

The Cambs county council, at its meeting on Saturday, will be recommended to inform the Newmarket R.D.C. that the county council has no observations to make on the revised sewage scheme for Soham, and that if the scheme is ultimately approved by the ministry of health, the contribution should be in accordance with the formula.

"The scheme is identical to the one considered originally, except that the disposal works are to be situated at Broad Piece, Soham, instead of Wicken Fen."

This sounds much like home. Who said "cost plus" was complicated? One might read locally that we will pave and widen all streets except that we won't widen and fix up any and that we will only partially pave those which have provincial subsidies of which there are only three but since deciding this we find that there are no subsidies . . . subject to a sneeze from the municipal board.

I guess life and times in the mother country are much the same as in Canada.

Advertising, on the other hand, is less pretentious over "ome. Using a picture of small curly headed child, or advertiser shouts "Hurrah! for so and so's bread." Another says "After the 'flu, Phosferine for You". Over here, the lure you with a picture of one of the old masters fiddling on his Strad while a Parisian siren looks on.

"After the 'flu, Phosferine for you."

Differing laws demand subtle approach over here. England the advertising brewer say "Work and play and be its best". Here we are told watch Canadian birds and enjoy yourselves on fishing trips, y lucky tourists. The association with the product in this case is stretched rather thin.

The greatest asset to English weekly journalism is the nam of rural and suburban communities such as Bottisham, Burrough Green, Great and Little Wilbraham, Stetchworth, Exing and Kirtling, all communities around Newmarket. What beautiful sounding names! They remind me of my English relatives.

I had a great grandfather once, Sir Fitz-Felix Ging. He lived behind a hedge in an English suburb called Hoo Hants Towers, Shoven-on-the-Oven, Milwich-shavenshireborough, Zwitches.

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture was started a few years ago by men who wished to have better conditions for the farm people. Later the county federations were organized. These county groups work along with organized farm groups in the county.

The federation has not been getting the desired results. There are many farm people who do not belong to any organization. The county federation had no way to contact this group of farm people.

To give all farm people a chance to work in organized agriculture we have now township units of federation. Markham, Whitchurch and East Gwillimbury are organized as units. We hear that Vaughan and King townships are to be organized shortly. In agriculture federation work each group of farmers works out what it thinks is best for the group. One splendid idea from one group is if a director or representative cannot attend a meeting, he sends someone in his place.

What the central group wants is to be able to contact the farm people and get opinions from each township unit through a director or contact party in each school section. Now let us suppose there is a measure going to be passed by our government that is not in the interests of the farm people, or we are asking that some legislation be passed for the farmer. If we have at least one contact in each school section in York county, we would have around 150 farm people that we could ask to write or send a telegram or make personal contact with our members of parliament.

This approach is in no way political. We approach opposition member as well as government members.

The farmer in the past has talked in terms of feed costs only. Now we want feed costs, wages, interest on stock, building, land, machinery. This is what we call a reasonable demand.

In addition we are asking five-day weeks, two weeks with pay and a pension, all this to be added to the cost of the food people have to buy. If it is not considered unreasonable for industry and labor, why unreasonable for farmer. Cheerio.

MILK PROFITS

The editor: It was interesting (to say the least) to read that assertion credited to Mr. M. G. Simpson, Toronto, managing director of Canada Dairies, Ltd., in your editorial entitled "Dairies threatened": "bottled milk distributors are working on the narrowest of profit margins and they just could not reduce costs without threatening their own existence. In large cities," Mr. Simpson is reported to have said, "dairy operators are working on a profit margin of one-fifth of a cent a quart."

The above statement could be interpreted at several very different levels, and I suggest that it would be desirable to have more light directed at just precisely what is meant by the term "a profit margin?"

In all too many instances, according to my reading of the annual reports of organizations engaged in handling, moving, processing and distributing the products of the farm, "a profit margin" is the residual fraction of the unit price which remains after all costs of all kinds have been taken care of. In these circumstances, therefore, the aforesaid "one-fifth of a cent a quart" really doesn't touch the problem of the costs of the services actually being rendered—nor of the possibility of their being reduced.

Vast sums can easily vanish in a complicated and duplicated distributive function (as our labor friends would say it) "feather-bedded" with over-generous administration and depreciation expenditures en route between the milk producer and the final user.

On the other hand, and with due respect to Professor Burton's top suggestion concerning ways of boosting milk sales—"Offer the customer a price-cut for buying more than one bottle of milk"—I suggest that milk is good value today when measured against a host of other less essential commodities; also that, under only exceptional circumstances, is the proposed price-cut technique used anywhere along the urban business front.

A Farmer.

RED CROSS SAYS THANKS

The editor: On behalf of the national officers, I should like to tell you once more, how sincerely grateful we are to the press of Canada for the generous co-operation and the strong editorial support given the Canadian Red Cross Society in the 1950 campaign. Such support has played an important part in the success of the appeal.

We are pleased to be able to advise you that the 1950 appeal is approaching a successful conclusion, and that when we have heard from the localities where delayed campaigns have been—and are still being—held, the success of the campaign will be assured.

For your help and that of your publication, please accept our grateful thanks.

Mrs. J. R. Nairn,
National Publicity Director.

STAFF SHORTAGE

The editor: During the past several weeks we have endeavored to keep the community informed regarding some of the activities of our hospital.

We feel proud of our hospital which was chosen by the University of Toronto, School of Hygiene, last October to be visited for the second year by their class of students who are qualifying as hospital administrators.

Up to the present time we have said very little about our difficulty in obtaining sufficient nursing staff to carry on a well organized and systematic nursing service to the community. So much of the success of a hospital, particularly a smaller one such as ours, depends on its nursing staff.

We realize that the shortage is not peculiar to our own institution for despite a greater enrolment in Canadian schools for nurses than ever before (12,000) our 170 schools of nursing cannot possibly meet the ever increasing demand for nurses from our hospitals, industry and public health, especially in view of the heavy casualties at the altar.

With our present program of hospital expansion, with greatly enlarged public health activities, and with more nurses than ever being absorbed into industry in hosts of new positions, the situation for all these fields (but particularly for hospitals with their tight shifts) will become more difficult and even more desperate as the years go by.

A study of the work done by graduate nurses has shown that from 50 to 60 percent of their time is spent on work which could have been done quite satisfactorily by others less well trained. Through this discovery has come our trained practical nurses or nursing assistants. Year by year the level of the undergraduate training is rising

An Aurora Opinion

By DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

The absence of one representative made it impossible to form a quorum to consider the formation of a Holland Valley Conservation Authority. It didn't seem particularly important when the meeting was called in Aurora during the month of January, to think about flood, drought, soil erosion or re-forestation.

Aurora and Whitchurch requested the meeting because of their dependence on artesian wells for their water supply. An eye to the future and an ear to the ground is a philosophy these two municipalities consider good business.

Canada has experienced one of the greatest national catastrophes in its history, yet four months before the Winnipeg flood, eminent authorities assured residents and farmers in the Red River Valley that there was no danger of devastating flood conditions this spring. Had those in authority in the prairie province practiced the philosophy of foresight, the flood tragedy might have been greatly lessened.

Man has been gambling with nature for thousands of years, but when we know that certain measures can be taken to avoid flood and drought conditions, is it good business to postpone an important step that must eventually be taken?

In spite of adequate snow and rain fall during the past season, farmers within the area of the new Ontario hospital are already reporting their wells at a dangerous low level. They have expressed the opinion that the condition exists because the hospital draws such a vast quantity of water each day.

It was for the protection of this watershed, that the two municipalities requested the formation of an authority. A. H. Richardson, chief conservation engineer for the province of Ontario, will probably call another meeting. It is important that a full representation from the area affected by the Holland Valley watershed be present. Anything as vital as our water supply either too much or too little, is of such importance that it should not be postponed indefinitely.

Canadians are a generous people. When catastrophe strikes, the open their hearts, homes and purses. Yet we foolishly think "it couldn't happen here". Anything can happen. Wisdom is in knowing that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

and that appears to be our solution up to a certain degree.

Now that vacation time is almost here and due to the fact that we have lost and continue to lose some of our much needed nurses to other positions, we are inclined to take a very grim outlook.

We are endeavoring to give as much as possible a straight eight-hour duty to our general duty nurses and have also increased salaries for registered nurses, and now consider that we can offer both hours of duty and salaries that compare most favorably with similar hospitals.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all married nurses in this area who have been most generous in coming to our assistance when many times it was not convenient and hope they will continue. We also solicit the help of everyone who has the interest of the hospital at heart in directing any graduate nurses who are free to help at this time, in our serious shortage.

Miss L. Thomas,
Supt., York County Hospital.

SOIL EROSION

The editor: I am taking the liberty of mentioning a condition of soil erosion evident on the farms in your part of the county. I have never witnessed so many washed channels caused by water. Some farmers have had to fill them in with the plow—but the soil that was once there cannot be replaced.

From my experience, having lived in the western States' dust bowl during my younger life, I know the destructive and damaging effect of wind as a factor in soil erosion. Farms, some prosperous, are now a shambles, vacated and in ruins. But we say this can't happen here.

Today the high wind brought back memories as I mention above. The driver of our car was, as many others were, forced to stop on account of blurred vision, while the gusts of wind blew the top soil from a field near your beautiful village of Sharon. We always admire the pastoral scenery on the road from Newmarket to Keswick where we visit during the summer and it is to be regretted that wind is causing so much damage.

Perhaps, Mr. Editor, you could champion a plan of wind breaks and the growing of suitable crops for farms subject to wind and water erosion.

Yours very truly,
F. H. Harris.

Scarlot Road,
Weston.

GARDEN LOOTED

The Editor — They say if you write a letter when you are upset don't post it, burn it! But this is a letter I feel I must write and not burn, for it is not only on my own behalf that I am writing it — but on behalf of every citizen of Newmarket who loves flowers.

Last week I told about the gorgeous flowers of Mr. and Mrs. Burns Lind in the corner of Park and Church Sts., and before people who do not live up that way even saw them, they were all picked, every last one, to the horror and dismay of us all!

The neighbors did not see the culprits but discovered the loss in less than an hour. I was called up several times about it and I was stopped on the street—some who had seen the lovely display — and some who had taken a walk to have the pleasure of seeing them, and wondered what I was writing about since there were no flowers there!

I have heard since that it was three little girls, but I did not ask who they were, I'd rather

Chas. O. Haines' Holstein Tops in March Production

The Holstein, Jean Pabst Rag Apple 510201 (VG), bred by Walter W. Haines and owned by Charles O. Haines, Newmarket, was rated top producer for the month of March with an eight-year 3X record of 30,179 lbs. of milk, 3.44 percent, 1,037 lbs. fat. At five years she made 27,339 milk, 3.52 percent, 963 fat; and at six years, 25,180 milk, 3.27 percent, 824 fat, both on 3X. She is by Deacon Rag Apple, whose ten daughters have 19 records (16 on 2X, 13 mature, 5 in 305 days), averaging 16,239 milk, 3.54 percent, 575 fat. She is the dam of Hainescrest Sovereign Tyeon who is owned by the Belleville unit.

ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING

The York County Home and School annual meeting was held in Toronto on Thursday, May 18. Attending from Newmarket were Mrs. Ted Mitchell, Mrs. Howard Morton and Mrs. Bert Morrison.

Farmers are shown here bringing in supplies from their flooded barns to the flood-besieged city of Winnipeg. These men have had to shoot their stock and their fields are under water. It is to assist them and the others who have lost everything that the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund has been organized. The fund has had a national response and in Newmarket, a door-to-door canvass is being carried out this week. From the centres throughout the district has come a rush of contributions but much more will be needed to even partially restore the homes and property lost to the flood.

3 NEWMARKET GIRLS HIRED AS TEACHERS

Applications from three Newmarket girls to teach in the public schools have been accepted by the Newmarket public school board. Audrey Rowland, Eloise Miller and Margaret King have been accepted.

Supervising principal H. A. Jackson said at a recent school board meeting that a "pick-up" class will be resumed next year. "The purpose of the class is to help students who are slow in certain subjects," he said.

"There was so much opposition to dropping an opportunity class that I am anxious to see it back in the schools," said Mrs. M. B. Seldon, chairman of the board.

The board has also discussed the use of one staff member to take the supervising principal's class while he is doing work connected with schools supervision. The special teacher would also do clerical work. Mr. Jackson said that he has found that two half days a week were not enough to do clerical work and attend to the supervision of the other schools.

WINS SILVER TRAY

Ted Rowe won the silver tray, the lucky door prize given at the euchre and dance held Friday at the Gray Stones by the Progressive Conservative Association. Euchre winners were Mrs. W. Patrick, Mrs. Lorraine Davis, Mrs. Rod Smith, Mr. Ray Jennings, Newmarket, Mr. Harry Corner and Mr. Lex McKenzie.

Mount Albert Sports Day June 3

Won't apply new System in schools Next year - board

The Newmarket public school board has been considering the new Ontario educational changes which were proposed last year by Hon. Dana Porter. At a recent meeting the board decided not to apply the new system next year.

The school inspector, O. M. McKillop, Richmond Hill, had spoken on the new unit system at the last meeting and had suggested that the board experiment with one classroom taking in students of grades 1, 2 and 3.

The general conception of the new system is a combination of three grades in one classroom. The same teacher instructs in the three grades and in that way students are able to take review work in a lower grade or advanced work in the next grade.

The system will be experimental and optional in public schools for an indefinite period according to Mr. McKillop. It is not likely that it will become compulsory next year, he said. When the system is applied it will require more teachers and more room in the schools.

There have been indications that a junior high school might be established in the Ontario system taking in grades 7, 8, 9 and 10. It is not known whether these grades will come under a public school board or a high school board.

After discussing the experiment in one room for next September, board members voted against it. Trustee A. H. Atkins said that it would involve extra work and complications and that he did not think it would be worth while next year.

SCHOMBERG NEWS

Call firemen 3 times Ere blaze put out

It was three times and out for the Schomberg Fire Brigade last Saturday. About 4.30 p.m., fire was discovered in the egg grading room of the plant of the Schomberg Chicken Picking and Egg Grading Co.

Although hampered by dense smoke the firemen were able to locate the seat of the fire and confine it to that room. The cooling system and egg grading machine were destroyed and also some 2,000 dozen eggs. Damage to the building from fire and water was about $500.

Apparently the fire was extinguished. A close check was kept for some time but about 11.30 p.m. dense smoke again poured from the building. Fire had worked along the roof rafters. A false ceiling had concealed this and protected it from the water at the first fire.

This time, considerable difficulty was found in getting at the fire. It was necessary to chop holes through the roof in several places to get water on the burning rafters. Again the fire was apparently extinguished.

About 4.30 a.m. Sunday morning, the brigade was again called out. The fire had spread along the rafters to the west side of the building and this time broke through the roof in several places. For a time it appeared that the fire would get out of control, but finally, after opening the roof in many places, it was put out.

Considerable damage was caused to the inner walls and partitions from water. But the chicken picking machinery had little damage done to it. The refrigeration room, which is an addition to the main plant, was practically undamaged. The final all-clear came about 6.30 a.m., Sunday.

Aurora Armory to have Complete renovation

Aurora Armory is undergoing a complete renovation. Built in 1865 at a cost of $1,500, it is estimated that the extensive alterations will amount to approximately $30,000.

A new heating system, electric light fixtures, remodelled offices and a decorating job inside and out, along with a special armor plate floor and enclosed ceiling, will make the substantial old building an up-to-date training centre for the Queen's York Rangers ("C") squadron reserve.

Valuable equipment, guns and vehicles will have adequate storage space. Officers and men of "C" squadron have carried on in the past with exercises under trying conditions. Modernizing the armory will prove a great asset to Aurora as well as give the unit proper training facilities.

MAKE DONATIONS

Donations were made to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and the Salvation Army by the Newmarket Women's Institute at its May 18 meeting.

Sponsored by Temperanceville Women's Institute, the meeting was attended by trustees and ratepayers of King twp. school sections, teachers of several schools, Home and School Associations and King twp. W.I. branches. Reeve Elton Armstrong, Councillor William Hodgson and Clerk H. G. Rose were also present.

Temperanceville W.I. is endeavoring to promote the entry of King twp. into the York county public health unit, organized to commence operation by July 1 of this year. A lucid explanation of the services offered by a unit, the cost to the ratepayer and the means of joining the unit were ably described by Dr. Moseley who was introduced by Dr. Gordon Chalk, Temperanceville.

As former public health nurse for Vaughan twp. schools and latterly nurse for Oak Ridges and Temperanceville schools, Mrs. Martin spoke of the need for a full time health service plan. The schools, she said, occupy 50 percent of the public health nurse's time. Many persons do not realize the value of a health unit until they are incorporated into the service. She advocated the complete service the unit offers for King twp.

Mr. Horace Brown told the gathering he considered the problem is "not how much does the unit cost but how much will it cost not to enter York county public health unit?"

Mr. Brown said his school board will call a ratepayers' meeting in the near future to give an expression of opinion whether they favor the township of King joining York county health unit. This section is one of the 26 to which forms have been forwarded by Temperanceville W.I. asking the record of vote on this matter be forwarded to the clerk of King twp.

Mother, Daughter Meeting

On Tuesday, May 23, at Oak Ridges school, the fourth annual Mother and Daughter birthday party was given by the Guides Association of which Mrs. D. R. Gunn is chairman. The stars are given in recognition of merit for service.

Subscriptions to the magazine, "The Canadian Guide", donated by Mrs. Gunn, were given to Marion Dion of the Kingfisher patrol and to Helen Sharpe of the Brownie pack. They sold the greatest number of cookies at the annual cookie day sale May 6. During the evening the Brownie pack gave a demonstration of three songs which have formed part of the regular training. The Guides gave two skits, Edith Geary of the Canary patrol and Marion Dion, Kingfisher patrol, organizing and directing the plays.

For general entertainment an educational film was shown by George Duwitt, National Film Board. Refreshments for the gathering were arranged by Mrs. Walter Geary. The table decorations were tastefully executed by patrol Kingfisher with colors red and blue and the Canary patrol whose colors are yellow and white.

Benny and the apple core

Benny, seven years old, received suitable discipline following a dishonest act.
He had been shopping with his mother. After carrying the groceries home, Benny usually stayed close by while they were unpacked and stored in their respective places. This time, however, Benny put his parcel of apples on the kitchen table and went upstairs to his room.
A few minutes later, mother found Benny gulping down the last bite of an apple. "What are you eating?" mother asked. When Benny said "Nothing," she wished she hadn't asked the question. Benny looked scared and guilty and she had forced him to tell an untruth. This occasion required strategy. Mother knew she had to put Benny at ease if she wanted to learn the truth.
Since her question had been, "What are you eating?" Johnny's answer could be considered authentic and the affair turned into a joke. After all Benny had swallowed the last mouthful before he answered. Mother was very friendly when she commented, "That's right — you aren't eating anything because you have swallowed what you were eating. I just wondered if you would like one of the apples you carried home from the store."
Knowing Benny's fondness for apples, his mother thought it quite probable that he had helped himself to one of them. That would explain his attitude of guilt in this instance. She wanted him to make the confession without coercion, though.
Benny showed his mother the core he had been clenching in his fist and said very meekly, "I just ate an apple." Mother was pleased with the confession and commented "Oh, I didn't know — you usually ask for one. Why didn't you ask me this time?"
Benny gave a surprise answer: "Because it wasn't your apple and I was afraid to ask the grocer." Next trip to the store, mother arranged for Benny to buy another apple and to pay for the last one, too.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Fine, summer-like weekends, mean an upsurge in the traffic through Newmarket to the cottages at the lake. They also mean an added responsibility to parents to make certain that their youngsters know and observe the rules of highway safety. Now, is the time to take the necessary precautions, rather than after a fatal accident in town arouses our concern.
All of us are aware of the safety habits we want our children to practise and it is only through early instruction and constant vigilance that we can hope to see them observed. How often we see children dart out between parked cars, intent on catching a ball or race across a busy thoroughfare without looking to right or left.
Little ones on their wagons and tricycles coast down the driveway out into the street directly into the path of an automobile. Who is at fault? Surely we can't blame the driver of the vehicle or the tiny child. But, rather the onus must rest on the parents. Did they take the time to teach correct safety habits?
Older children on bicycles are another cause of concern. Often they are permitted on the street with their bicycles before they know how to ride them properly or have learned to keep their balance. They are not familiar with the traffic signs, signals and rules or they show a superior disregard for them by riding without holding on to the handlebars or riding double. In such instances they can not have the control of their bicycles necessary in an emergency.
The really great danger to safety in our community at this season lies not with the careless pedestrian but, rather, with the holiday motorist who has set a deadline for making the cottage and so sacrifices caution to gain an extra few minutes. Those of us who live on the Davis Dr. Speedway are overly aware of this condition. From others we learn that similar situations exist on Eagle and Prospect Sts. as well as on the other town roads used by summer visitors to Lake Simcoe.
On Saturday, a small puppy was hit by a car in front of McGuire Industries. The yelps of the injured dog could be heard clearly up to our garden where we were hoeing, but the motorist did not stop. Fortunately the little dog suffered only minor lacerations and a nasty shake-up but we wondered if it had been a youngster which had run onto the road instead of the dog, could the driver have avoided the accident?
Living within the town limits we have in front of our house a sign stating that the speed limit is 30 miles an hour, but many, many cars pass at a speed closer to 60 than to 30. We are aware that a road maintained by the Toronto and York County Road Commission which is bounded on one side by the township of North Gwillimbury and on the other side by the town of Newmarket presents quite a problem regarding the observance of a speed limit established by only one group concerned. But, surely there must be some democratic manner in which this problem can be solved.

Clean Up - Paint Up
On the envelope of the family allowance cheque this month was the slogan, "Clean Up for Health", and incorporated into the slogan was a broom, rake, mop and paint brush. All of these tools should be much in evidence next week in Newmarket for May 31 to June 3 has been designated Clean-Up week.
Held under the sponsorship of the Newmarket Horticultural Society it is the second such project as last year's clean-up week proved highly successful. The society is backing clean-up week at this time with the idea that it will provide the necessary impetus for each and every homeowner to clean up his property. No town can be beautiful and dirty.
Do your share by improving your home surroundings and the accumulative effort will make Newmarket a town in which its residents can be proud to live and a shopping centre which will prove attractive to the summer lake residents.
The local Cub pack is distributing the hand bills announcing the Clean-up week as its share in the project. There will be two special pick-ups of garden trash, etc. On the west side of town this pick-up will be on Wednesday, May 31 and on the east side it will be on Saturday, June 3.

LAKE LOOP AT MOUNT TONITE, 3 'IMPORTS' OUT

Along about seven chimes to-night, kick-off in the Lake Simcoe Softball League at Mount Albert ball park. Participants are Willow Beach and Mount Albert.

Does sound a bit of alright for the opening frolic, Menar-McNeill men visiting with the defending champs Mount Albert. Both camps report ready. It'll be Ken, Mitchell matching his high fast one against Cec. McNeill's slants.

Lake Simcoe League executive met at Ross Chapman's home last Friday to give further consideration to player lists. Bill VanZant and Tod Mosier were refused permission to play with Queensville. Zephyr plans received a rude jolt with Bill "Joint" McComb being erased from their list. All three players failed to qualify under the league residence rules. Decks are now cleared for action. Bob Peters will be back again as umpire-in-chief in the south section, reports President Ross Chapman.

Here's luck to all the teams. Along with our publicity directors, Claude Pollock and Doug Hope, will try to keep you up to the minute on newsy notes from the battle scenes, and a wish for a banner season to Ross Chapman, president, Fred McLeod and Ken Hodgins, vice-presidents, Harry Brammer, secretary, and Archie Dike, treasurer.

Schedule for the first week is: May 25, Willow Beach at Mount Albert; May 26, Pine Orchard at Zephyr; May 28, Hope at Queensville; May 29, Keswick at Vandorf; May 30, Queensville at Mount Albert; May 31, Pine Orchard at Hope.

Start work on floor For Keswick arena

The Keswick arena, or to give it the full treatment, North Gwillimbury Memorial Centre at Keswick, is a beehive of industry this week. The work of laying a polished concrete floor started Tuesday morning. Good progress was reported at the end of the day. A large part of the work is being done by volunteers from Keswick and district. This will make the arena available for dancing and other summer activities.

QUEENSVILLE NOT OUT

Don't believe that rumor that Queensville has dropped out of the Lake Simcoe Softball League race. It isn't so. The club has been re-organized and is ready to carry on. Willard Cryderman is the new coach and Titus Peregrine manager.

TOWN TEAM PRACTICES

Butchers, bakers, barbers and bankers ahoj Merchants, salesmen, and printers awake Town team in the Town League practices Friday night and again Monday at the Stuart Scott diamond. Work-outs called for seven chimes. Don't be bashful, step right up.

Almost two-thirds of this year's clams are being canned.

Newmarket bows out Of North York softball

After several false starts, a few rumors — first that Newmarket was in, then out — it's now definite that the local softball picture will be a mite dimmer this summer. Newmarket will not be represented in the North York Softball League action.

A meeting held at the council chambers Friday evening brought out five interested players and fans. Lack of interest, lack of a sponsor, no one to take on the managership as well as loss of several players were given as the reasons for embalm-ing the North York entry. This leaves Fred Morgis and the North York League with seven teams, Thistletown, Schomberg, Woodbridge, Lansing, Langstaff, Richmond Hill and Aurora.

SPECIALTY READY

The Office Specialty Town League Softball entry is ready to go into business. The election of officers for the club took place Thursday. G. L. Manning was named honorary president, Larry Sheffe, president, Jack Glenn, vice-president, Barney Bishop, secretary-treasurer. Pete Neufeld was selected as field manager, Albert Topping, business manager, and Harry Boag will coach the team. "We're ready, bring on the opposition" was the theme song for the Specialty camp.

Mount Albert Sports Day June 3

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

Last week in the hamlet brisk and lively but still little sound of bat meeting the horsehide. The prelims for the main summer blows are progressing. Baby steps taken for snappy six-team town league as main mushball show. Spitfires have banquet. Legion fails to enter town league.

Six teams are in, Specialty, Davis, Hoffman, Bell, Optimists and Merchants. Seventh may be if Sangamo, Price, Benders, Dixon's, Newmark and Siegel combine. Better order up that silverware, Dewey Kuhns—a lot of action coming up. It'll be good and it'll be loud if the executive headed by Mickey Smith have anything to say about it. Battle-ground split three ways, Hoffman, fair grounds and S.S. diamonds. Lateness won't be tolerated, says prexy Smith. Start at 7 chimes. If not there by 7.15, lose the game by default. League starts to percolate June 7.

The opposite sex is moving in. They're going to have a little more to say about how to run the bases. Ruling passed through at the annual meeting of the Barrie and District Softball league allows one man on the coacher's line. This is a break from the P.W.S.U. rules that say it's gals only. A new member this season is Orillia. Raises the count to five. Orillians play home games at Couchiching Park. Hear tell none other than Ken Broughton is coaching the new entry.

What's to be done about the baseball situation? There are seeds of midget, juvenile and junior age ball players itching to swing into action. How to get them going? Is town league the answer? Say three teams—could co-operate with Aurora on this. Understand there's a junior squad in the making there. Tie the four together. Decide on best chances in the O.B.A. and send in two teams. Might be worth a look into.

Off again, on again, gone again Finnegan. That's the intermediate softball scene. Five, yes you could count 'em on one mitt, number attending meeting Friday in an endeavor to get the team rolling. Even "Peaches" Van-Zant was discouraged and when that ball man is ready to leave in the sponge, then the embalming is next. That's just what's happening — Newmarket out of the North York League picture after nailing down a flock of championships.

Our Spitfires hauled off and wrote finish to hockey Thursday. Two good Joes, Tunney and Peat, and one F for Freddy Dillman took the bows and trophies.

See active tennis year Free teaching for juniors

Everything is ready to roll. Lights and the courts are in tip top shape at the courts of the Newmarket Tennis club. Memberships are coming in strongly but of course there's room for more. Keith Davis, following his plan of the past three years, is conducting tennis instruction classes at the courts for juniors each Saturday morning. Classes start at 9.30 a.m. and run for an hour. There is no charge. Mr. Davis is donating his services — and there are few better racket men in the district—as his contribution towards developing players and spreading the game in the junior ranks.

150 register for Figure skating classes

One hundred and fifty are now registered with the Newmarket Figure Skating club for instruction to be started this fall in the arena. Boys and girls range in age from four to 16, 22 boys and 128 girls have said plan to take part in the classes.

No further names are being accepted for the classes although Mrs. Howard Brice is compiling a reserve list but the latter can only be accommodated should some of the earlier applicants drop out. The executive of Figure Skating club, Mrs. Howard Brice, Mrs. Morley Gilkes, Mrs. Dr. John Dales, Mrs. Margaret Davis, Mrs. Horace Jacques, Mrs. Fred Henney and Mrs. Lawrence Molyneux, are meeting at the arena Thursday to complete plans and ascertain what ice time will be available for instruction this fall and winter.

Ivan Eves Orchard coach Ab. Boak manager

Ivan Eves, former Sharon hurler in the Lake Simcoe League, has accepted the job of coach with Pine Orchard Softball club. Ab Boak is manager, Doug Hope, team captain and Randall Chapman, treasurer. Pine Orchard has held a couple of snappy practice sessions and is ready to spring into action, says captain Hope. Orchard crew will have the welcome mat out for its supporters on June 2 for its home showing.

Lake Simcoe Jr. ladies Organize 4-team loop

Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies' Softball League organization meeting was held at Keswick Tuesday. Officers elected were Charles Stevens, Keswick, president, Mrs. Ruth Donnell, Keswick, secretary-treasurer, executive named were Reg Ball, Newmarket, Dave Galloway, Sutton, Jean LaRue, Keswick, Horace Berwick, Maple Hill. Four entries were accepted: Newmarket, Keswick, Maple Hill and Sutton. Two other possibilities were mentioned for entry, Pine Orchard and Roche's Point. Both will be contacted.

Executive decided to allow each team—as all were just getting underway—to use three players over the junior age limit. This was the only deviation from a strictly junior league. Players' names have to be submitted to the executive by June 1 when executive again convenes. Further entries will be accepted to that date. Geo. Watt, Reg Ball and Geo. Haskett represented Newmarket at the league meeting.

Rained out twice Schomberg tries again

Schomberg's entry in the North York Softball League will launch their home season again tonight under the lights. Opposition will be Lansing. Rain washed out last week's game. Elgin Hastings expects to have a full team on hand.

Two previous road games have gone against the 'Bergers. They lost the season opener to Thistle-ton and Tuesday suffered an 8-3 reverse at Langstaff. Ken Ellison opposed Bill Bowen of Langstaff on the mound. Jerry McCabe was the Schomberg long ball hitter with a home-run smash.

Schomberg's entry in the York-Peel League was rained out in their attempt to start the season off last Monday, but are scheduled to play in Pottageville tonight and are back home Monday evening under the lights.

church last Sunday brought the fund $53. The Women's Institutes gave donations. Zephyr branch donated $50, Bogartown branch $20, Newmarket branch $10, as well as the time and effort of canvassing part of town.

Hope Hobby club gave $20, and in Queensville, where there was a tag day, $36.40 was raised as well as heavy contributions of clothing. Mount Albert W.A. contributed $15.

Special events are being planned to assist the flood victims. Newmarket Lions club revives its popular minstrel show tonight in the town hall for a one-night stand with all seats reserved at $1. Schomberg is preparing a "Turk Broda" night when he will bring his hockey "All-Stars" to a game against the home team under lights on Wednesday, June 7. (See sports page for details). Newmarket Boy Scouts are continuing their clothing campaign on the east side of Newmarket. They have already collected a large amount of clothing from the west side of town and expect to fill a truck before they are through.

Newmarket industry is rallying to assist with contributions of $45.50 from the employees of Bender Casket Co. and $9.50 from the employees of Newmark Lin-gerie.

At Pickering college, teachers and pupils contributed together $200.

and every flight is a carefully planned operation. In fact it is the proud record of TCA's Sky-liners to have made over 80,000 "wintertime" flights over the past 12 years, 60,000,000 miles flown between the months of November and April inclusive, and 1,000,000 passengers carried. This is convincing proof that flying is a year-round operation. You fly high above the weather, where the flying is smooth in clear air to find the sunshine or star light level, with inside temperature thermostatically controlled.

"In the not too distant future, with the advent of jet transports, commercial aviation will make another great advance to the point that 50 passengers at a time will fly in complete comfort at high altitudes between Toronto and Montreal in 45 minutes, between Winnipeg and Toronto in two hours, across the Atlantic in six hours and between Vancouver and Tokyo in ten hours," he said.

Bradford "Murrell Motors" may not have made the finals in the Trolley League but they hogged the glory when the voters made their selection for the all-star team.

The selectors liked them for four places on the number one team, the Spitfires landed one, while Sutton "Greenshirts" were awarded one.

Bradford players named to the all-star crew were goalie Ken. Tupling, defenceman Joe Magani, centre Roy "Mutt" Collings, and right winger Bill Boy-

Aurora Lions sponsor Annual fireworks show

The children of Aurora turned out in full force for the annual display of fire works and games sponsored by the Lions club. As usual the fun and frolic took place in Victoria Park to celebrate the Queen's birthday.

There was a brief ceremony before the fire works started when Mayor Alex. Bell accepted the bandstand, a gift from the Lions to the town. Members of council and a number of Lions took part in the presentation.

Bill Boychoff picked up a total of 41 marks. Joe Peat was a close second with 39. Eligible to vote on the question were Ab. Hulse, Vic Sheppard, Geo. Haskett Stan. Schedule makers chewed this important question over the weekend and came up with an early start for the teams. Newmarket will visit Midland for the opener on Monday, May 29. Home nights designated by the teams are Midland, Monday; Stranmen and Valleys, Wednesday; Newmarket and Orillia, Thursdays.

Only rule, of few suggested changes, likely to affect the picture to any extent is that to allow one male coach to take his place on the coach's lines. Play-off will drop one of the five teams into the discard. First and third, second and fourth, clash in the semi-final brackets, two out of three. Finals go three out of five.

Present at the general meeting of the association were Ruth Rutherford, Muriel Rawn, Paul Quilty, Midland; Frank Courtney and Geo. Haskett, Newmarket; Evelyn St. Onge, Doreen Wilshire, Irene Patterson, Orillia; Hazel Wright, John Murphy, Doug Hedger, Barrie.

Joe made his acceptance reply brief but to the point, thanking his mates for their co-operation and mentioned it was the first time in his many long years of hockey that he had received an award. Fred Dillman and Joe Tunney were jointly called on to accept "The Marigold Trophy" to mark their feat of allowing the least number of goals to get past them of any net-minder in the Trolley League last season. Presentation was made by Jim Walker on behalf of Ted Robinson, proprietor of the Marigold Shoppe. Both net minders also received miniature trophies.

Each player was then presented with his share of the gate receipts. Players on the receiving end were Fred Dillman, Joe Tunney, Gord Bone, Cliff Gunn, Joe Peat, Deb Cooper, Bill Mahbett, Harold Tunstead, Harry Caradonna, Don Smith, Bill Johnston, Norm Legge, Myles Melniss, "Swifty" Todd, Stan Gibbons, Harvey Gibney, coach Stan Smith, trainer Pete Preston, assistant manager Mickey Smith.

Coch Stan Smith, speaking on behalf of the club, thanked the players, the supporters, Metro League and the arena commission for their co-operation over the season.

Guests were the players wives, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Byers, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McComb, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Robinson, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Lockhart, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gibney, Denne Bosworth, Jim Walker and Larry Sheffe.

POSTPONE H.S. ASS'N CLOTHING SALE

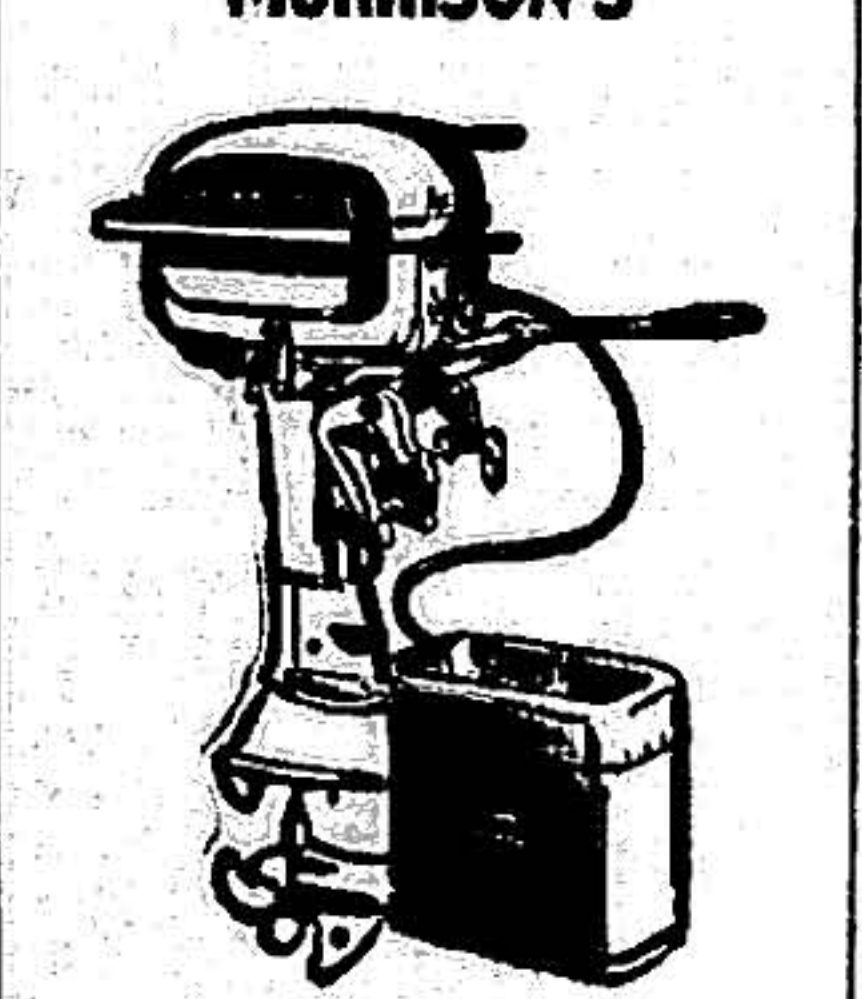

The Newmarket Home and School Association has postponed the sale of used clothing which had been advertised for Thursday, May 25, until September.

This action was taken in deference to the Boy Scouts who are collecting clothing to be sent to 11 unfortunate sufferers in the flooded areas of Manitoba.

The association urges all the residents of Newmarket to help the Boy Scouts in their worthy undertaking.

ORILLIA JOINS GIRLS LEAGUE OPENER MAY 29

One new member for the Barrie and District Ladies' Softball League. That's the main fact emerging from the annual spring meeting of the association in Barrie last Thursday. Orillia is the new team. They join Newmarket, Midland and two Barrie teams, Stranmen and Valleys, to make up a five-team circuit.

The meeting also confirmed the fall election of Frank Courtney as president and Hazel Wright, Barrie, as secretary-treasurer. Other executive members named were Doug Hedger, Barrie, and Paul Quilty, Midland. Orillia and Valley's will name a member to the executive as soon as a manager for their respective teams has been selected.

Schedule makers chewed this important question over the weekend and came up with an early start for the teams. Newmarket will visit Midland for the opener on Monday, May 29. Home nights designated by the teams are Midland, Monday; Stranmen and Valleys, Wednesday; Newmarket and Orillia, Thursdays.

Six teams starters In town ball league

Schomberg plans aid To flood victims with 'Broda Night' on diamond

Mark this date on your calendar: Schomberg Lions club and the village's two softball clubs are co-operating to stage a major attraction for Wednesday, June 7 — a "Turk Broda Night."

Turk Broda will bring along his National Hockey League "All-Stars" for an exhibition softball game with Schomberg. Here's a chance to see how the hockey greats perform on the ball diamond. Hockey stars line-up will feature Turk Broda, Cal. Gardner, Bill Quackenbush, Gus Morrison, Sid Smith, Ed. Harrison, "Chick" Webster, Jim Thompson, Harry Watson and Bud Polle.

That's not all—it's for a worthy cause — Manitoba Flood Victims Fund. The puck men are coming out free gratis, Schomberg Lions are taking care of the advertising—every cent taken in goes to the flood victims.

Game goes under the lights starting at 8.30 p.m. Gladstone Lloyd, Schomberg sportsman, is in charge of arrangements.

Mount Albert Sports Day June 3

Six teams are definite starters in the town league softball hunt. Some 25 attended the organization meeting of the league Friday evening. Teams entering to date are Office Specialty, Davis Leather, Hoffman, Bell Telephone, Optimists club and Town Merchants.

One other team, the Combines —Sangamo, Dixon, Bender, Siegel, Newmarket and Price—have until Wednesday to post an entry. Following officers were named: Dewey Kuhns, G. L. Manning, D. J. Hutchings, honorary presidents; Mickey Smith, president; John Campbell, vice president; Harold LaPlante, secretary-treasurer; Geo. Haskett, publicity director.

The executive will be composed of one member from each team and the following were chosen: Pete Neufeld (Specialty), Barney Revel (Davis), Jack Hamilton (Optimists), Bruce Greig (Town), Jack Teasdale (Bell), "Cecars" McDonald (Hoffman's).

Discussion then switched to plans for the campaign. Games will be staged on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. So that each section of town may have an opportunity to see the Town Leaguers in action it was suggested that the games be split up between the fair grounds, Hoffman and S.S. diamonds.

In the main, Ontario Amateur Softball rules will govern. Each player on a factory squad must work in that plant, or in the case of service club, must be a member, while the Town Merchants are restricted to players residing in the town of Newmarket. Any player listed with any other organized team will not be allowed to take part in any of the town league tills.

The league executive will convene again this week to draw up a schedule, and a start is expected early in June.

DOWN THE CENTRE BY AB HULSE

Once over the district lightly

Most incidental: Howard Morton, rotund Newmarket - Mount Albert garageman and one of the district's top marksmen for "flying saucers" at the White-church Gun Club, set a record for the club last week when he potted 25 out of 25 from unknown angles. Previously, Howie Patrick of Aurora had bopped 25 from known angles, but the uncertainty and speed necessary for unknown angle shooting really takes some skill. Bruce Gould, Bert Morrison, and all the rest are out to equal "Mort's record."

Jack Moran, who was assistant at the Thornhill club last year, has been engaged as pro at the Aurora Highlands Club. Moran, a likeable young man, is both a keen player and a good teacher, and the ever growing Aurora club has made a fine choice. On the subject of golf, we would like to recommend to you a mighty fine volume of British origin called "This Game of Golf."

Written by the great Henry Cotton, it is profusely illustrated and aside from showing you how to correct your faults, its racy, easy-reading style makes it more than a technical volume. You won't set it down easily, and the section on "The Best Player Ever" is worth the price alone. The pictures are in the exclusive class, and even if you don't play the game, but merely take your sports via the written word or attendance, you'll want this book for your library. It's an ideal present for any occasion.

Billy Bowen of Langstaff is pitching for Eddie Black's of the Wanless Park League once again. Bowen's hurling in the district softball circuit has invariably suffered because of overwork on the mound but Fred Morris has two extra hurlers this season. Bradford softballers, having won the South Simcoe title last year, have entered two teams in the league this season. They don't expect to win again as the players will be divided and newcomers and youngsters will be given every opportunity to play.

Bradford is looking to the future and in a year or two there'll be plenty of material to replace the veterans who can't last forever. It's an ambitious program that might be copied in both Aurora and Newmarket, and Thornhill Lions club has four public school leagues operating in boys and girls series covering five district schools and that will pay softball dividends in the future.

Red Mitchell, now officially recreation director at Lindsay, reports close to 500 youngsters in that town ready to play baseball from a survey taken in the schools. They'll be accommodated and there'll be softball as well. On the question of hockey, only four of last season's Lindsay club are too old for next season, although three of them will have trials elsewhere.

Don't be surprised if McGregor of Gravenhurst, who guarded the twine cage for Perry Sound juniors last winter, doesn't migrate to Lindsay. One of the West brothers from Orono has already moved to Lindsay where he'll also play ball. Mitchell will definitely coach Lindsay juniors next winter in addition to his recreation duties.

Aurora Black Hawks will shortly sport new windbreakers and cardigans as well and they'll get charges for spending money from the club funds as a result of the past winter's activities. There'll be no official party until mid-June. The town of Aurora will likely do honor to the youngsters as well.

Lacrosse opened officially this week and we note that Son Rowntree of Woodbridge has been promoted to senior company and joined the ranks of Weston seniors. Son has everything to make good. Team-mates on the Weston team include Ted Downer, Will Gallagher and Florian who played junior hockey against Aurora in '49.

Bennie Harris, who played hockey both at Richmond Hill and Sutton West, has left Weston this year and is performing with Brampton Excelsors. The Brampton club has Blake Eatough and Bobbie Hillson of the Brampton junior hockey team in action along with three imports from British Columbia. Over at Mimico, the redoubtable Fatso James, who has retired three or four times already, will wield a gutted stick for the Mountaineers once again.

At Bradford, where Nick Burnside, former Orangeville player, is trying to get a team together for O.L.A. competition, things are not too rosy. The question is will the team pull from Aurora, Newmarket and elsewhere or will they stick to homebrews? After all there's not too much to be drawn from either at Auror or Newmarket and the expense and inconvenience of transportation may well outweigh any advantages gained.

It's just 26 years ago since the original B.N.A. team played its first game, whipping Toronto Danforths 10-2 with a team composed of "Slogey" Hodgins, Harry Doonan, Guy McHale, Orval Saunders, from Newmarket, the late George Hart, Floyd "John" Billing, Charlie "Kid" Harman, George "Curley" Fleury from Aurora, Arnold Meredith, the late "Gunch" Reeves, Ollie Robinson, Sids Sutherland, Harry Gapp, Fred "Colly" Collings from Bradford. The team won the group but actually either centre might have been better with its own team as dis-sension, expense, divided management, and lack of practices told in the long run.

We suggested to Ernie James the other day that Bradford would be better sticking with homebrews even if they were of the "next season" class than use imports of questionable value. Ernie countered with a top grade suggestion: "Let's have an under-20 league embracing Alliston, Beeton, Tottenham, Bradford, Aurora and Newmarket. We'll develop plenty of players that way."

Ernie has something there. The travelling would be light, the towns would have to depend on their own players and while the lacrosse might lack quite a bit in finesse it would have sincerity, oomph, and the smack of real amateurism and sport that was so characteristic of Canadian sport a quarter of a century ago. We could do with that same spirit in sport right now. Take it away, you old timers!

In Review 1615 - 1949

This is another of a series of articles on the history of York County, edited by Hugh Griggs, Mimico, from information compiled during the past four years by W. G. Goddard, staff member of Weston Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. York County celebrates its centenary this year.

It was just before the turn of the century that the townships of Whitby, Pickering, Scarborough, York, Etobicoke, Markham, Vaughan, King, Whitchurch, Uxbridge, Gwillimbury and the tract of land laid out into townships, lying between the counties of Durham and Lake Simcoe, by an Act of Parliament constituted and formed the East Riding of York.

At the same time, the townships of Beverley and Flamborough, East and West, and the tract of land on the Grand River north of Dundas Street, then in the occupation of the Six Nations Indians, and all the land between that tract and the East Riding of the County of York with the lands in the rear of the townships of Blenheim and Bradford, by an act of parliament constituted and formed the West Riding of York.

First Settler
Timothy Rogers, the first settler on the site of Newmarket, together with Jacob Lundy, established a Quaker settlement at this place.

This was in 1800, the year the Township of Whitchurch was surveyed.

On January 3, John Small, clerk of the executive council, and Attorney-General John White fought a duel. White died of wounds. Small was indicted for murder, but was acquitted. Thomas Scott was appointed White's successor on July 24.

The land running north from Queen St. was divided into park lots each containing 100 acres and numbered westward from George Street, now the first street east of Jarvis Street.

Lot No. 1 was granted to William Jarvis. His home was demolished when Jarvis St. was put through.

Capt. John McGill owned Lot No. 2. His home was on the site now occupied by the Metropolitan church.

Dr. Macaulay, mentioned earlier, owned lot No. 3. This began on the east at Yonge St. Teraville St. takes its name from the last syllable of Mrs. Macaulay's maiden name, Hayter, and the last two syllables of Macaulay.

Lot No. 4 was owned by Chief Justice Elmsley, who traded the southern half of this lot for Dr. Macaulay's northern half.

Lot No. 5 of which Osgoode Hall grounds is a part, was first owned by Rev. T. Raddish. Later, John Beverley Robinson acquired it.

Petersfield was the name given to Peter Russell's estate. On the death of Miss Russell, it was left to Dr. William Warren Baldwin, the father of Robert Baldwin. Baldwin opened Spadina Ave.

Bathurst St. was the western boundary of the holding of E. B. Littlehales. Capt. John Denison bought this property and opened Denison Ave., a street two blocks east of Bathurst St.

The next section, consisting of five lots from Bathurst St. to Ossington Ave., was owned by Col. David Shank, Capt. Macdonell, Capt. Samuel Smith, Capt. and later Major-Gen. Aeneas Shaw, who gave his name to Shaw St., and Capt. Bouchette.

David Burns, William Chervett and Alexander MacNab, Thomas Ridout and William Allan and Angus Macdonnell owned the lots from Ossington Ave. to Dufferin St.

This Alexander MacNab, mentioned above, was commissioned in the British Army and was the only Canadian to be killed at the battle of Waterloo in 1815.

The Rev. George O'Kill Stewart, B.A., was appointed the first rector of St. James in 1800. He remained at this office until the year 1812.

Capt. Baron Frederick de Hoan, a retired British officer, Hessian by birth, was a resident of the town of York in this year of 1800. He lived on the west side of Yonge St., north of Deer

THE HOMEMAKERS

Preparing for home canning

Spring is bringing with it an abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables which the thrifty housewife will want to hold for less productive seasons, and for many, this will involve home canning.

First of all, foods do not miraculously improve in flavor or appearance during canning. Therefore fruits and vegetables to be canned should be of the highest quality. In addition, they should be canned as soon as possible after gathering. You cannot overemphasize the importance of using only tender, young vegetables and well formed, mature fruits when canning.

Before the canning season really gets underway, it is important to check your utensils to make sure that they are in good condition. Pressure canners are now used by many housewives the year round, but if, by chance, they have been stored away for the winter, they should be taken out well ahead of time and thoroughly checked, particularly the openings to the petcock, safety valve and pressure gauge.

Glass sealers should be checked carefully to make sure they are not cracked or nicked in the rim. New glass tops or metal screw bands may be required as well as new rubber rings. When buying rubber rings, be sure to get the correct size for your sealers. The narrow rings are for the screw top sealers and the wider ones for the spring top sealers. The boxes in which the rings are sold are clearly marked with the trade-names of the sealers on which they should be used. Rubber rings should not be used a second time.

When tin cans are to be used, the sealing machines should be carefully inspected and a test can sealed to see that the machine is working perfectly.

There are two methods of packing, hot and cold pack. The hot pack is the method recommended for canning vegetables. In this method, the product is actually packed into the containers while boiling hot and then processed for the required time.

The cold pack is an excellent method to use for fruits and tomatoes. As the name implies, the food is packed into the sealer or can and is then covered with either hot or cold liquid and then processed. This method should never be used for canning vegetables.

A few minutes spent in careful planning and checking with last year's results will show the homemaker which method she prefers for each of the products to be canned. It is a good idea to look at the vacant spots in the storage shelves because they tell you very quickly what the family liked best and, no doubt, you will want to do more of the favorites this year.

Modern methods of canning recommend leaving a headspace when packing. Headspace is the space between the surface of the liquid and the rim of the container. Leaving such a space helps to prevent loss of liquid from sealers or bursting of tin cans.

After processing, the sealers should be cooled in an upright position, out of draughts, with some space between them for circulation of air. Tin cans are cooled by plunging them immediately into cold water. Changing the water frequently helps to speed up the cooling.

The canning bulletin put out free of charge by the department of agriculture has been revised recently and is now available. This bulletin will be a boon to the home-canning novice since it not only gives all the steps in canning fruits and vegetables but also the directions for making many delicious jams, jellies and pickles. To obtain a free copy of "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables," send your name and address to the Information Service, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

ENTERS 26TH YEAR WITH SIMPSON'S HONOR MISS DOANE

Miss Dora Doane has completed a quarter century service with the Robert Simpson Co. Twelve and a half years of this time was spent in Toronto and the remainder in Newmarket. A beautiful bouquet of 25 deep red roses was received by Miss Doane from the Toronto department in recognition of this special event.

A letter from E. Burton, president of Simpson's, and other congratulatory letters from various executive members of the firm have been received by Miss Doane.

Later in the year all members of the staff who have become 25-year clubbers will receive watches and pins in recognition of their quarter century with the company. These presentations will be made at a banquet in Toronto in the early fall.

Newmarket residents are familiar with the courteous and efficient manner in which Miss Doane has managed the local order office and join with her employers in extending their congratulations.

HOSPITAL AID HAS 'OPEN HOUSE' MANY SEE FACILITIES

Hospital day in Newmarket was celebrated with the holding of open house at York County hospital. Receiving the many guests who came from all sections of the county were the superintendent, Miss L. Thomas, and Mrs. Rusty Rogers, president of the hospital aid. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Elton Armstrong, Mrs. Mervyn Peever, Miss Lulu Cleland and Mrs. Howard Cane.

Visitors were taken on a complete tour of the hospital by staff nurses assisted by Mrs. J. W. Bowman and Mrs. Elman Campbell. The tour included a visit to the admitting office, business office, male wards, waiting room, formula room, fracture room, laboratory, basal metabolism room, accident ward, female wards, case room, operating room and maternity section.

A popular part of the tour included the peep into the previously forbidden territory of the nursery which can accommodate 24 babies. From the tour it was learned that the semi-private and public accommodation in the male section is for about 18 patients and that there were 21 beds in the female section.

Following the tour, the visitors were taken to the medical room which had been converted for the afternoon into a tea room. There light refreshments were served by Mrs. Elton Armstrong and her permanent refreshment committee which includes: Mrs. Frank Courtney, Mrs. J. O. Little, Mrs. Bert Budd, Mrs. Jack Booth and Mrs. Gerald Wainman. Pouring at the daintily arranged tea table were Mrs. J. L. Urquhart, Aurora, and Mrs. W. A. McCaffrey.

At the membership table assisting the convener, Mrs. McCaffrey, were Mrs. Henry Moore and Mrs. W. P. Fish.

The Common Round... By Isabel Inglis Colville TO MEET GANDHI

There are few of us who do not like to meet celebrities in the flesh and next to that often unattainable objective, to meet them through someone who has walked and talked with them.

So when on Tuesday evening of last week, the members of the Trinity United Church Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S. journeyed to Queensville as the guests of its W.M.S., we were all agog to hear Mrs. Francis Starr introduce us to Mahatma Gandhi.

Mrs. Starr said that my introduction of herself and her subject was either a challenge or a dare. For I said that I had never felt the magnetic appeal of Gandhi's personality which made him the undisputed leader of millions and gave this little gnome-like Indian leader a power which has seldom been equaled.

But when Mrs. Starr spoke of his singleness of purpose, his readiness to acknowledge mistakes, his course, the inner power which when exerted to the utmost could draw in many cases the Hindoo and Moslem together, one felt something of the awe which only those who live on a higher plane can draw forth.

Evening Prayer Meetings

She told us of his evening prayer meetings when he read from the holy books of his own people and also from the Bible; of his prayers and of his talks in various matters which were re-broadcast twice the following day so that the waiting millions could hear what their idol had for them. Mrs. Starr was present at many of these meetings, included in the entourage which accompanied Gandhi from his home to the place of prayer, and on one occasion stooped her shoulder to his shortness, as a support.

As their little procession passed through the waiting throng, people reached out to touch his garment and even those of the two who supported his feeble steps.

And, she said, in spite of all belief to the contrary on the part of those who never acknowledge the supernatural, a wave of holiness emanated from this prophet of peace.

Spiritual Leader

In the centuries to come, said Mrs. Starr, Gandhi will rank high among the great spiritual leaders of all time. If being a Christian is only calling one's self by that name, our speaker concluded, then Gandhi was not a Christian but if living the Christ life means anything, then he was! We felt, I think, that we had not only been introduced to Gandhi but had absorbed some of his selflessness and his wholly giving spirit.

Mrs. Lou Stephens sang as she always does, with great sweetness and feeling "The Stranger of Galilee" and "Beautiful Garden of Prayer". She was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Gilbert.

We were welcomed most heartily by the president of the Queensville branch, Mrs. Milford, May evening.

and to this Mrs. Walton replied suitably. A delicious lunch was served following the meeting. The ladies of Queensville prepared such tempting sandwiches and cakes that many of us exceeded the limits that politeness would set upon appetite. We watched the Newmarket bus gather up its gay load and then Mrs. Starr, Mrs. E. Evans and I joined Mrs. Walton to drive through the wonderful freshness of a Canadian May evening.

Where does the money go?

At times most of us have looked at purse, wallet or bankbook, and wondered: "Where does the money go?"

You may have wondered, too, where does our money go—the money we receive for gasoline, fuel oil, lubricants and other products we sell. Well, last year each dollar we received went this way:

CRUDE OIL and other raw materials took more than half of each dollar.

MANUFACTURING AND PACKAGING took more than 11 cents. Costly equipment and skilled workers were needed to make the 640 products we supplied for thousands of uses.

TRANSPORTATION took the next big bite of the dollar. Products moved over wide areas to serve every community in Canada. During 1949 we paid more than $34 millions for railway freight alone.

MARKETING was next. Marketing brought you the products you needed when and where you needed them... power, heat and lubricants for factory, home and farm. Marketing supplied your neighborhood dealer, that independent businessman, so that he could serve you conveniently and dependably.

TAXES to provincial and federal governments took 7.53 cents. And this did not include gasoline tax, which—depending on where you live—took from 21 to 33 cents out of every dollar you spent for standard grade gasoline.

PROFIT was 3.89 cents out of each sales dollar. Of this 2.25 cents went to shareholders as dividends. The rest—along with money we borrowed and obtained by sales of investments—was put back into the business to replace worn out equipment, to provide new equipment and make sure that we can continue to supply your needs in the future.

Teach conservation in 'bush class'

An experiment in education, the first of its kind in Canada, has been carried out by Pickering College, Newmarket, this year. During the late winter and again two weeks ago, part of Pickering College went to the bush for a week.

The "classroom in the bush" was an experiment in school camping to make students aware of conservation, give them an experience in meeting people who work in the forest areas, give them an idea about natural resources, their conservation and restoration. According to the headmaster, R. E. K. Rourke, and the supervisor, C. R. Blackstock, the experiments were definitely successful.

Other purposes of the experiment were to find out how much such schemes would cost and how practical they are. The two projects were sponsored by the College. Mr. Blackstock, Pickering physical education director, supervised and directed the trips. The Ontario Lands and Forests Department supplied experts in the field of conservation of natural resources to instruct the students.

There were two projects. In the first part of March, grades seven and eight spent a week at Limberlost Lodge in the Huntsville area. With department instructors the boys saw a log mill and a saw mill in operation, had actual experience in handling lumber. They took field trips for tree identification, bird and animal identification, saw a Rangers School, had instruction in trapping and examined pelts. A local trapper took the boys who travelled on skis along part of a trap line and demonstrated beaver and muskrat sets.

Appropriate movies from the department of lands and forests and the meteorology bureau were shown in the evenings. All the boys made reports and were supplied with a library of reference books, maps and charts.

The second experiment two weeks ago was held in the Uxbridge district with the centre of operations at Skyloft Lodge, a ski resort three miles north of Claremont. Some of the younger boys in grades five and six went on this trip, helped to plant 5,000 trees and made field trips which included fishing and bird identification every day. They observed cropping of timber in the reforestation areas. In trimming, many carloads of pulpwood are taken off these department reforestation areas.

On this second project there was more concentration on soil and terrain and how to control and manage it. Students saw the effects of breaks in grass cover on hills, the effects of erosion by wind and rain.

What has all this to do with the state school system? Other teachers and students from other schools observed and took part in these activities. The projects fit in with the department of education's plan to accent or emphasize conservation education. A text book is in manuscript form now which will be used in the public schools for conservation education. This type of education also fits in with the department of lands and forests program to increase public education, especially on the protection of forests and wild life.

In the United States, school camping projects have been carried out to a large extent in Michigan. In Mr. Blackstock's opinion, schools could help the department of lands and forests to a great extent in cropping and planting.

"School sections could be asked to plant trees along roads," he suggested. "In the fall and spring department workers are short of help. A number of students from a high school in grade nine and ten for example, could assist in a project of tree planting in their area. Instead of one 'Arbor Day' there could be an 'Arbor Week' when the students could plant trees along the highway with the supervision of department personnel and with department tools."

These have been successful experiments in new practices in education. Next month Headmaster R. E. K. Rourke, Mr. Blackstock and staff members will plan future camping schools. Also sitting in on the planning will be representatives from Forest Hill Village schools.

Garden graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Released by Central Press Canadian

The possibilities of parsley have been overlooked by many home gardeners. Those in the know grow it as a much prized vegetable instead of merely for garnishing purposes.

Parsley will grow almost anywhere. It is not particular as to soil and it readily adapts itself to changeable climatic conditions. It should be sown, however, as early in the spring as soil and weather permit, when the ground is moist and cool.

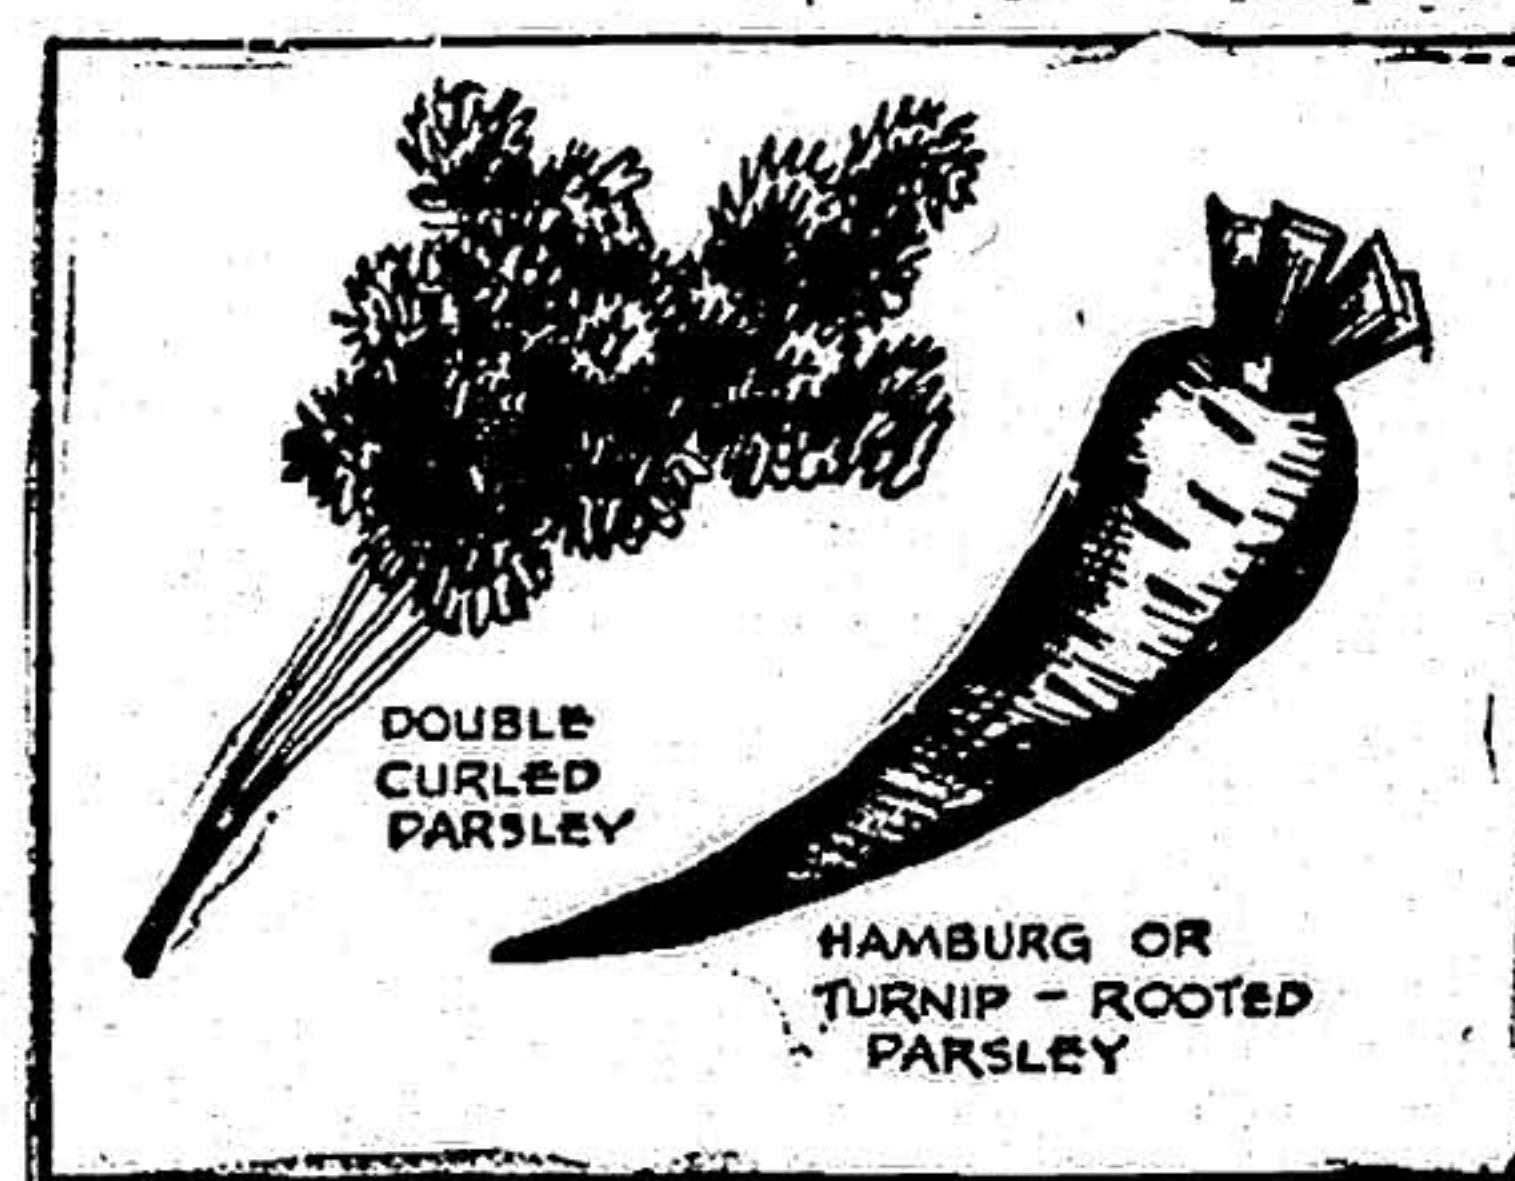

Hamburg parsley, also known as turnip-rooted parsley, is shown in the accompanying Garden Graph. The fleshy root is about the size of a large parsnip and can be boiled and eaten like parsnips. The skin on this root is creamy white and so fine that it requires only washing instead of paring.

Nutritionists now know that parsley roots are at their best when eaten raw. Grated and served with mayonnaise they have an appetizing nutty flavor. For garnishing purposes the double curled parsley, illustrated, is preferred nowadays to the plain leaved. It is quite dwarf with curly, finely cut dark green leaves. It stands the winter well and retains its color the entire season.

But don't ignore the plain leaved variety entirely. One plain leaved type has a thick root like that of a parsnip. It can be boiled as a pot herb or dried and grated like horseradish.

Parsley seed is slow to germinate and often a month will elapse before seedlings appear. Thin out the plants, when large enough, to stand six inches to a foot apart. Since a dozen plants will provide an ample supply for the average household — unless you become a parsley enthusiast — it is well to give each individual plant ample space.
